MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD - PAIDIA 1999

*Mr. G. Freight, Head of School, joins Alumni at a Vancouver reunion.

It is indeed a privilege to have been asked to lead Strathcona-Tweedsmuir School into the new millenium. The School has seen many changes over the course of the years of my career at STS. At the same time, there exists a solid foundation of tradition built upon the support of so many people: students, staff, parents and friends. It is the combination of these changes with our traditions that helps us keep our vision and goals in clear perspective.

This edition of the School yearbook reflects the many and varied activities which thrive in our community. My congratulations go out to Mrs. Penny Nash, faculty advisor, and her team of enthusiastic students for their inspirational work which chronicles another phase in our School history. Thank you for all your hard work and dedication.

MOUSE MANIA!

In November 1998, Mrs. Colborne and Mrs. Stewart joined creative forces once again to bring us "Mouse Country", a musical that retold the story of the City Mouse and the Country Mouse. All elementary students and some junior high dancers took part in this wonderfully entertaining production.

Top left: The cats emerge to try and prey on the city mice

Top right and bottom left: We thought the play was going to begin with one of Mr. Porter's stories, but Cowboy Colborne had other ideas for him so that the show could go on!

Middle right: Jackie Solc and friends extol the virtues of living in the country

Bottom right: The city mice prefer the more sophisticated life

AN EVENING OF DRAMA: FOUR SHORT PLAYS

Also in November, the drama department staged a series of short plays, involving mainly senior high students. Mr. Prost and Mr. Tottenham produced a little taste of everything, from the spooky Sorry Wrong Number and Dracula to the more lighthearted scenes from The Princess Bride and the dramatic Still Stands the House.

SEPTEMBER

Elementary Walk-Run

In September, all of the elementary students participated in the annual walk-run, as a warm-up to the school-wide Terry Fox Run. The first fully participatory event of the elementary school calendar had our youngest students putting forward their best efforts as they tirelessly circled the S.T.S. campus.

Below Left: Lap counters help keep track of the miles

Grade 6 tree-planting was another elementary event in September. Carol Engstrom, an alumna of our School, contacted the Elementary, inviting classes to participate in the process of reclaiming the area by planting seedlings. It was felt that this would be a wonderful learning opportunity and a valuable experience towards taking an active role in becoming more aware of the interactions of humans and their impact on the environment.

Terry Fox Run '98

The Terry Fox Run is a long-standing tradition at S.T.S., and we are proud of the donations we have raised for cancer research over the years. All students and teachers are expected to participate in either the five or ten kilometre course. This year's theme, as created by the Prefects, was "Around the World", and was another highly successful Run.

EXPERIENCE

works her magic

A Night In a Tipi!

As their first junior high outdoor experience at S.T.S., the grade seven classes spent a night in September camping in tipis on the Peigan Indian Reserve. The experience brought greater cultural awareness about Alberta's First Nations, as well as allowing the students to get to know their new classmates better. Students were led on a tour of the Head-Smashed-In Buffalo Jump Interpretive Centre, and later were able to participate in activities including drumming, cooking bannock, making dreamcatchers, and learning about various Native legends.

Mrs. P. Nash

Grade Four and Seven Camps

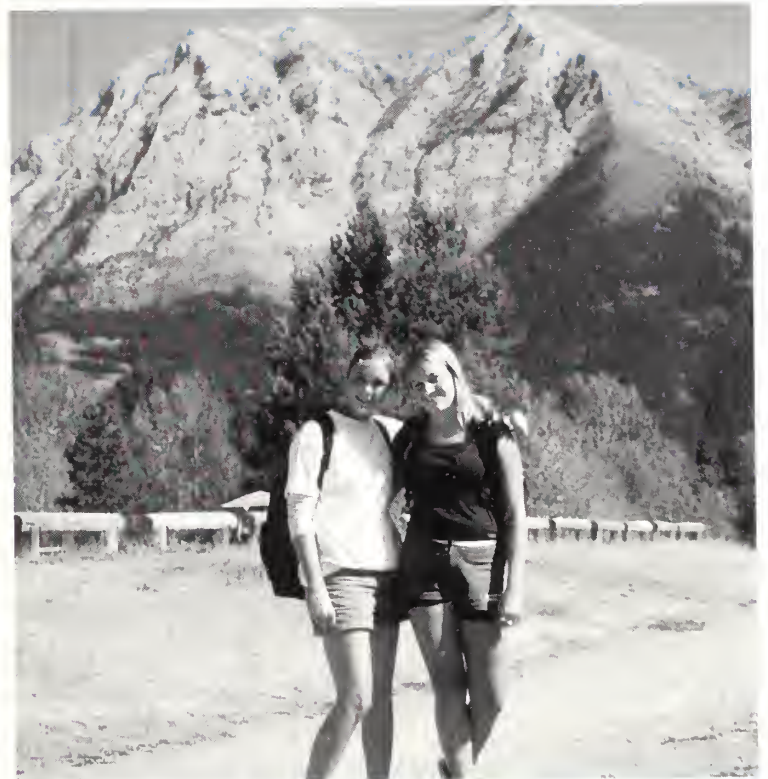

In September 1998 the grade 4's went on a trip to Camp Horizon, in Bragg Creek. The purpose of this trip was to bring the curriculum "alive" in an outdoor environment. As well as to provide enrichment, this experience allowed the grade 4's to have more trust and respect for their fellow peers. From the grade 4's point of view, this experience was a BLAST!!
By Brendan S., Kathryn S., Kate G., and Jeff K., 4B

During the week of September 13th, 1998 the grade 10's ventured up to beautiful Kananaskis country for a week of intense physical activity (and a little nonsense too). This was the time to make new friends or to rekindle old ones; a time for the graduating class of 2002 to be together. Throughout the week students were divided up into groups to take part in rock climbing, white water canoeing, or mountain biking. This week was not for the faint of heart! Many students were seen shining in their newfound activities that they will revisit in PE throughout the remainder of their high school career. One of the highlights of the week was the bridal pageant. Students were equipped with a single roll of toilet paper and were asked to become the next Alfred Sung of the bridal world. The week was fabulous, the weather was awesome and a good time was had by all.

All grade six students are provided with the opportunity to develop their leadership skills. Each is given the responsibility of Master of Ceremonies at elementary assemblies and of demonstrating positive role modelling for all students. As well, the students continue their involvement by choosing a leadership group to be involved in. These groups and some of their activities are as follows.

Grade Nine Graduation Celebration

This year, the grade nine class celebrated its rite of passage to senior high with an evening at Devonian Gardens on Friday, April 23rd, followed on Saturday with swimming at Southland Leisure Centre.

A huge thanks goes out to Mrs. Adam for her tireless organization of this annual event.

Junior High Students' Council

Students' council was active this year in organizing various advisee group activities, such as 50's week (including Twister and bubble-blowing contests), relay races, duct tape competitions, and others. Grade nine senators kept assemblies running smoothly. A big thanks goes to Ms. Carscadden for all her hard work in overseeing the many student council activities.

Grade 7 Ski Week

Fun in the Snow by 7C

Grade 7 ski week was the highlight of the year. In January 1999, we journeyed to the back country of Banff National Park for a big adventure. This was the week when we probably learned more about fitness and the outdoors than any other week of our lives. Also, we learned about hostel manners: being polite, cleaning up after ourselves, and respecting other people. What a great trip.

Speech Day 1999

Speech Day 1999 proved to be another huge success! It was a whole day of entertainment - comedy, tragedy, drama and complete outrageousness from all categories and grades. Although there could only be one winner per category, Speech Day showcased some of the impressive dramatic talents of S.T.S. students. This year was also quite different from previous years, with the appearance of Poetry Recitation and Impromptu Speech in Top Acts. Overall, the entire event was fun and entertaining for students, teachers and the audience - it was definitely a success for all!

The Christy Worsley Creative Writing Award

1999 Winner: Kim Milne, Grade 9

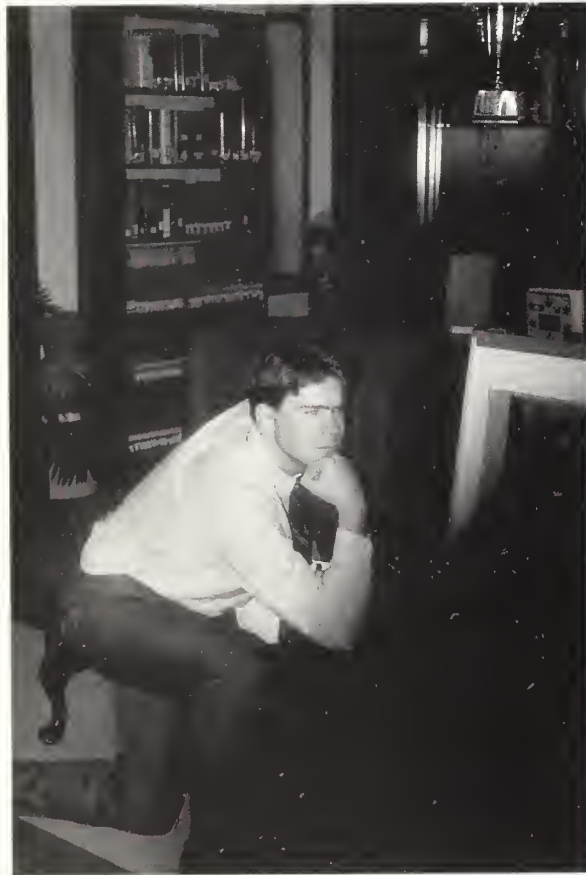

As I stare out at the tossing waters of the Pacific Ocean I think how uncanny it is that they resemble my feelings. Dark, misty and confured - not knowing which direction to turn or where to go. They then slide up on shore, licking the rocks and sighing back to where they came from. I breathe the smell of salt and seaweed in deeply. The calming smell invades my nostrils. I don't feel any better. Weird, I think, as I stand and begin to walk. The ocean always makes me feel better. Why is today any different?

The Locke Short Story Award

1999 Winner: Jonathan Woodward, Grade 12

The Matrix was a world inside a world. Within its seeming chaos operated everything the human race did online. It contained the messages of billions of lovers, trillions of corporations, many more people and identities. As every axon fired and particle moved, so did the information of the world. And yet to gaze in it one would not realize its complexity and order - it would be only a chaotic mass of lightning, electrical blue.

An excerpt from A Legacy by Jonathan Woodward

POETRY

Junior High

The Christy Worsley Poetry Contest

1999 Winner: Samantha Ewan, Grade 9

*I am someone small.
Insignificant,
But there.
Though the world would still run,
If I was not here,
something would be missing.
If a thred in a sweater,
Was gone from its place,
You still wear the sweater,
But a hole would take its place.
See,
For no matter how little,
Or useless we feel,
We still have a role to play.
If not for ourselves,
For the people around us.
People who still need to learn.*

Honourable mentions:

Susan Nelson, Grade 9

from Killing Illusion

*A cold wind, Slithering up under a jacket,
biting at exosed skin,
Hissing in numb ears.
Then a collar is snugged around the neck,
Of a passer-by.
The bums are asleep in the alleys,
Under cardboard shanties.
The clang of a coin dropped into an old tin mug,
And the pathetic thank-you muttered
Are barely heard*

Kim Sproule, Grade 9

from Individual

*You tell me I am wrong
You tell me I'm not right
Because I'm being strong and independent Because I stand up tall
'Cause I refuse to fall
I only want to be my own person

'Cause I'm an individual*

CHINA

On March 26, 1999, a group of 44 students and parents of S.T.S. embarked on a 16-day tour of China and Hong Kong. The tour included visits to Hanzhou, Beijing, Guilin and finally Hong Kong. Perhaps the greatest difference between Canada and China for most of the group was the food. Rebecca and Randy Otto and Mr. and Mrs. Orsten were quite adventurous, trying delicacies such as snake, snake's blood, and snake carcass soup. The cultural experience was enhanced by visits to Buddhist temples, the Children's Palace, a Beijing home, the various night markets, and the Forbidden City. After leaving mainland China for Hong Kong, the drastic differences that ensued created an atmosphere of appreciation and thankfulness for the basic amenities - food, space and shelter - that we Canadians take for granted each day. The land of the Orient certainly made for a fun-filled and intense holiday for the group from S.T.S.

During Easter vacation, the following grade nine and ten students, led by Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. Adam, visited Greece and Italy. In Greece, the group visited Athens and Delphi. The students enjoyed visiting the sites they had learned about in Greek mythology. In Italy, we toured Sorrento, the Isle of Capri, Rome and Florence. The trip was a wonderful cultural experience and everyone came home with special memories to cherish. Throwing a coin into Rome's Trevi fountain ensured that all would be back to visit one day.

Trip Participants: Max DeGroat, Ainsley McCaskill, David Hirji, Jackie Parker, Erin Brennan, Angela Raffin, Jocelyn Ullett, Nadim Allidina, Amol Mehra, Elizabeth Allen, Holly Marshall, Sylvia Szadovszki, Carly Wolk, Devin Smith, Cailean Wood, Candice Gee

THE DAVID LANIER

Scenic and Nature Category

"The other night, I was closing the blinds, when I saw the tree covered in rain drops. They looked like diamonds in the street light. In all the eleven years I've known that tree, it never struck me as it did at that moment, so I needed to take a photo. I like the way I was able to hide the light source behind a trunk, the way the sidewalk and road shone, and the spidery, dewy look of the branches. I really love the way the tree's shadow is thrown so distinctly, and how the light looms in mid air."

- Sydney Schwartz, Grade 11

Human Interest Category

"Both Kate's and my parents left us together for a weekend. It was a lot of fun, however we both require solitude. Kate had to climb a tree, out of reach (although the tree in the corner seems to stretch its spindly fingers to try and pull her down from her perch) to think about it all. A different perspective? Pensive."

MARTI McKAY

Magic was in the air during Marti McKay Week '99! Our resident artists were Zabo and Odlo (a.k.a. Baruch Laskin (S.T.S. '90) and Brad Saville), a duo of performers currently making their mark on the local scene. All students participated fully, learning the rudiments of juggling, and their new talents were displayed in a schoolwide showcase presentation to conclude the week.

The 98/99 Senior Girls' basketball team enjoyed an intensely competitive season. While their league play was highly spirited, a few strategic losses kept them from qualifying for zone playoffs. Their tournament play was generally more successful, capturing a gold medal at the Sundre tournament. That weekend also earned them a spot in Sundre's history books, as the wackiest dressers ever to frequent their movie theatre! Great season, girls!

TEAMS

Over the Easter break, senior S.T.S. debaters Safiya Karim, Faizal Meghani, Faisal Premji, Edward Rawlinson, Mercedes Stephenson and Nadia Tejpar traveled with coach Ms. Sullivan to New York City, where they participated in a model United Nations event.

FAREWELLS

Ms. Caroline Baldwin came to S.T.S. in 1997 from Squamish, B.C. A former nurse, she taught science and chemistry, and coached the junior 'B' girls' basketball teams during her two years here. In May, she gave birth to Renata, and since has moved to Victoria with her husband, an English professor at UVic.

Mr. Gary Bauman has been a part of S.T.S. for 28 years, as an elementary homeroom teacher, coach, and most recently a junior high math and social studies teacher. He now retires to a quieter life, at home with his wife Marlys. Student support for Mr. Bauman was evidenced by the standing ovation he received at Prizegiving.

Mr. Bill Jones has been the Head of Senior High at S.T.S., moving here from Brooks seven years ago. He has taught English and CALM, and has led many outdoor trips, treasuring those which allowed him to be on his mountain bike! Mr. Jones has been an advocate for his students on countless occasions, and has guided so many of them in their post-secondary choices. He has been appointed Head of School at Southridge School in White Rock, B.C.

Mrs. Donna Sundstrom has been an elementary French teacher since 1989. Her work has been a family affair: husband Vern is a frequent substitute in the elementary, and son Kyle is a grad this year. Mme. Sundstrom may be retiring, but look for her to return for visits and perhaps as a substitute!

Mrs. Tracy Thorbjornsen was a member of the S.T.S. class of 1985, and joined the staff in November 1997 as the new receptionist. She will be remembered for her incredible ability to keep track of all of the students in all parts of the school. She leaves us to work out of her home with her husband, Garry, and two young daughters.

Mom and Dad: I can't thank you two enough for all you two have done for me. You pushed me when I needed pushing and you helped me when I needed helping. You have both given me a life that I am grateful for. You have shown me the world and shown me how to deal with it. I thank you with all of my heart. On a lighter note, I just wanted to say that it will only be a few more years till you have all of us kids out of the house. Try to hold the joy back. Thanks again and I love you.

Shawn and Andrew: What would I have been without you two. Simple, not bruised and battered. Just joking. I just wanted to thank both of you for helping me through this part of my life. Thanks, and I love ya! I wish ya both the best.

Harry and Betty: H & B. You have given me a lot of memories and stories to remember over the years. I just want to thank you for all you have done for me. I really appreciate it. I will remember everything for the rest of my life, even Andrew's sucking up to Betty!

To all my friends in school:

Dennis. thanks for everything. I wish you the best and I hope to see ya soon! Dave, SLOW DOWN DAVE, YOU'RE GOING TOO FAST!, just jokin'. Talk to ya later.

Thanks for entertaining me on the bus, eh!

Nads: I miss ya tons and I hope to see ya soon.

Ishii: Ishii man, WASSUP! What the dilly-o!

Wick: Thanks for everything and see ya soon at MP's. May Emilia live on (Big, big girl).

John: Thanks for all your love man. What would I have done without you on that bus. The Browns: Thanks for everything guys. Alki, Fiz, P, Shami (a.k.a. Monkey man!), you guys da bomb!

Everyone else: I'm sorry if I left you out, but thanks to everyone for helping in any such way over these past 2 years.

To all my friends out of school:

Scott: Thanks for everything. I owe ya! May Jack live on and trust me, the fields of fire will soon come. Bruno: All I can say is that you are pretty fly for a white guy!

Amanda: Thanks for everything. Remember, keep the GOOD times comin'. Later.

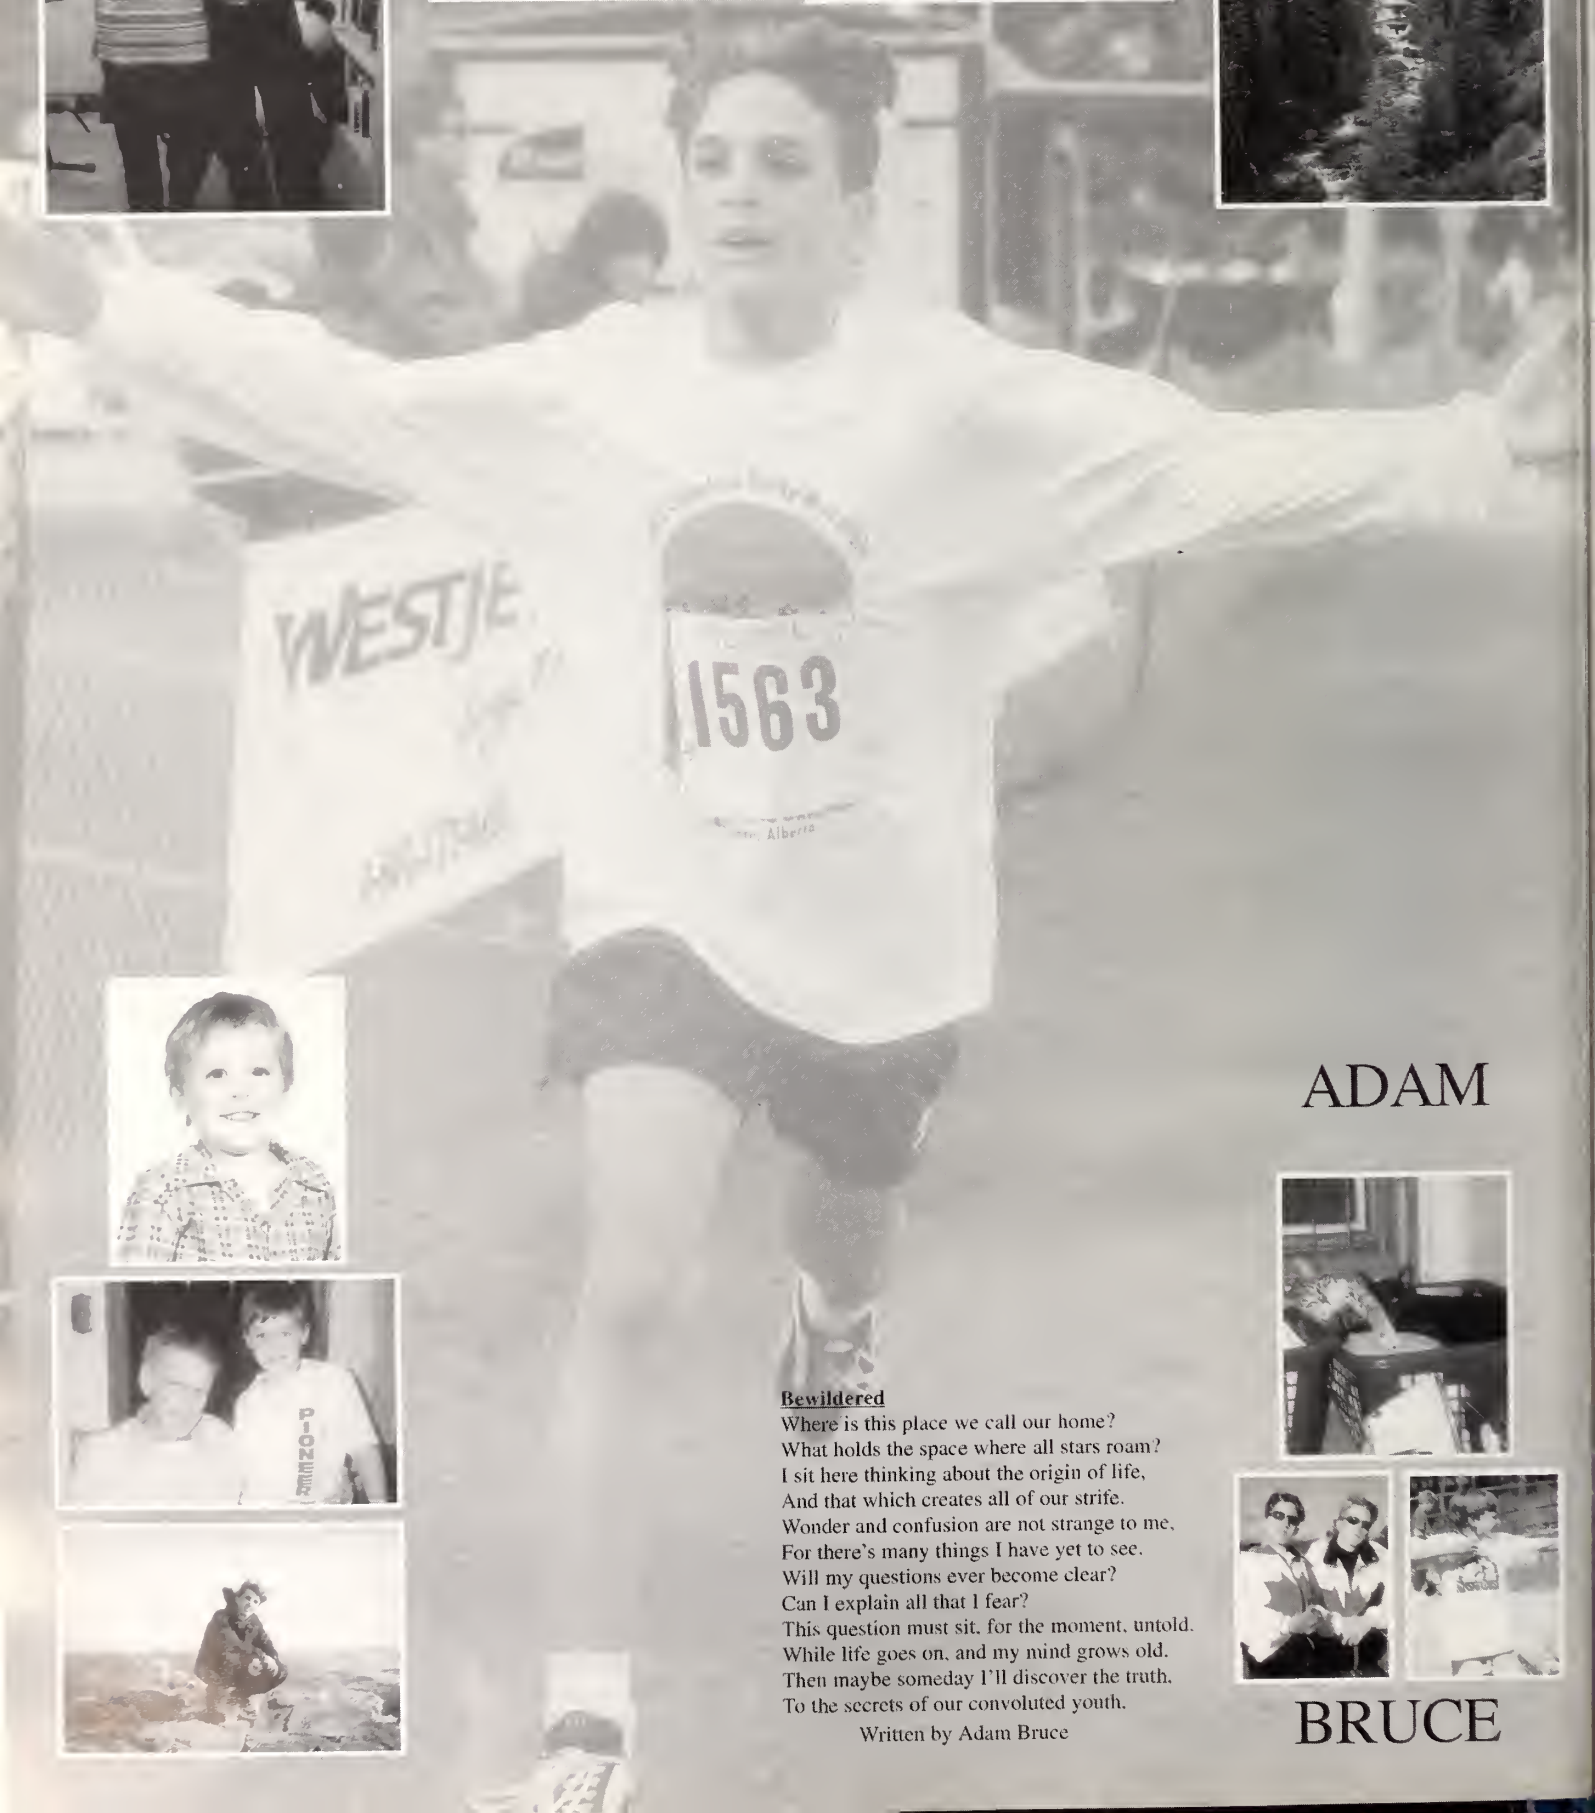

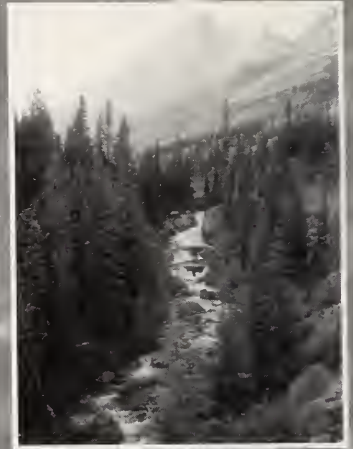

Darris: D-man. Thanks for everything. Wish ya the best man, PEACE!

Tyler: Thanks man. What would the summer have been without BC. We be goin' this year too! Keep the tunes pumpin'.

Everyone else: I want to thank all of ya! May the parties continue!!!!

Bewildered

Where is this place we call our home?
 What holds the space where all stars roam?
 I sit here thinking about the origin of life,
 And that which creates all of our strife.
 Wonder and confusion are not strange to me,
 For there's many things I have yet to see.
 Will my questions ever become clear?
 Can I explain all that I fear?
 This question must sit, for the moment, untold.
 While life goes on, and my mind grows old.
 Then maybe someday I'll discover the truth,
 To the secrets of our convoluted youth.

The Invitation

It doesn't interest me what you do for a living
I want to know what you ache for
And if you dare to dream of meeting your heart's longing.
It doesn't interest me how old you are
I want to know if you will risk looking like a fool for love for your dream
for the adventure of being alive.
it doesn't interest me what planets are squaring your moon...
I want to know if you have touched the center of your own sorrow
if you have been open to life's betrayals or have become shrivelled and closed from fear of further pain.
I want to know if you can sit with pain mine of your own without moving to hide it or fade it or fix it.
I want to know if you be with joy mine or your own if you can dance with wilderness and let the ecstasy fill you to the tips of your fingers and toes without cautioning us to be careful be realistic to remember the limitations of being human It doesn't interest me if the story you are telling me is true.
I want to know if you can disappoint another to be true to yourself
If you can bear the accusation of betrayal and not betray your own soul
If you can be faithless and therefore trustworthy
I want to know if you can see beauty even when it is not pretty everyday
And if you can source your own life from its presence
I want to know if you can live with failure yours and mine and still stand on the edge of the lake and shout to the silver of the full moon
"Yes!"
It doesn't interest me to know where you live or how much money you have
I want to know if you can get up after the night of grief and despair weary and bruised to the bone and do what needs to be done to feed the children
It doesn't interest me who you know or how you came to be here I want to know if you will stand in the centre of tire with me
and not shrink back
It doesn't interest me where or what or with whom you have studied
I want to know what sustains you from the inside
when all else falls away
I want to know if you can be alone with yourself and if you truly like the company you keep in the empty moments

UNIVERSITY TOUR 1999

On Friday, March 26, 1999, 38 grade eleven students and three teacher chaperones ventured off on an Eastern Universities Tour. On this trip we gained an appreciation for the number of excellent universities that are available to us in Ontario and Quebec. Not only were we able to envision ourselves at certain schools, but we were more than eager to leave our high school years behind us and join in the fun a year early.

Along with touring the various universities, we had time to sightsee, relax, and - our favourite - spend time with friends. Between visiting the Museum of Civilization in Ottawa, enjoying fine dining at Mr. Numa's brother's restaurant in Montreal, and hanging out at the pool, our days were never dull.

Ms. Harper, Mr. Numa, and Mrs. Skelly were terrific chaperones, at times having to answer 38 questions all at once. Without them, this trip would not have been the same.

by Alexandra Bell and Nicole Burns, grade 11

CELEBRATING ART 30

I am always impressed by the qualities it takes to succeed in the artroom. Commitment drives everything... it also takes a mature, focused, organized, resourceful and bright student to envision and create her work. "Everyday there is opportunity. Everyday in Art you are testing yourself and your skills."

Art comes together best when driven by a strong sense of spirit and passion. This class created a unique studio environment where each girl mattered. The girls supported each other in their work and in the many layers of experience that takes place in the student's graduating year. Their hangout was no longer in the rotunda. These girls made their home in their studio. Art 30 has become a stronger course because of this group. Their energy, spirit and quality of work is the new benchmark.

GRADUATION SHOW

These students may never become visual artists in the future. But what they take away from this class is the knowledge that they are caring and they matter. With these attributes, they can imagine, dream and create, whatever life they choose.

Thank you Art 30, for a great year. You have a permanent place in my heart.
